Leading Yourself

t Infoniche, our focus, inspired by our leaders' core values, is on the critical topic of Leading Yourself.

Effective leadership necessitates understanding and clarity regarding one's purpose, vision, and guiding values.

Consider the questions below and assess how well you are leading yourself. Then write out your purpose, vision, and value statements in the space provided.

- Do I have clarity on WHO I really am and what is my compelling WHY?
- Am I grounded in WHERE I want to be in the future?
- Do I understand my core values and how do I live them every day?

Hurpose is knowing WHO you are and WHY you exist. It is the key to life and can guide life decisions, influence behavior, shape goals, offer a sense of direction, and fuel passion.

WRITE OUT YOUR VISION STATEMENT

Where do you see yourself

3 years from now?

5 years from now?

10 years from now?

You should also be grounded in your vision—WHERE & WHO you want to be and WHAT you will look like in the future (3, 5, 10 years from now).

You should be grounded in your values—what you stand for.

Values are the standards in which we live by.

They are the characteristics, behaviors, and beliefs that motivate us and guide our decisions.
